

Thalon

Highly energized, spiritually solid, and exuberantly humble describes the three piece band known as Thalon. Their down to earth, rock solid sound and ministry echoes across the nation as they put their new show and new CD, "The Divinia Scene," on the road. This new project is produced by Tomas Costanza for Chamberlain Records. Tomas' credits include tours with Simple Plan, Hoobastank, Good Charlotte, and Lifehouse as well as tracking experience alongside Don Gilmore (Linkin Park), Mark Trambino (Blink 182), and Steve Albini (Led Zeppelin, Nirvana).

"The Divinia Scene" will mesmerize the listener as the catchy melodies and guitar laden tracks send you on a musical crusade to the forgotten land of rock and roll. Thalon's music and incredible live concerts are surpassed only by their desire to share Christ with the youth of America, and to connect with them on a personal level. One concert convinces. One concert motivates. One concert sets belief in motion.

Bob Ezrin, former producer and music industry giant said this: "The difference between an artist and a musician is that anybody can be a musician and play music, but an artist changes the way people think." A Thalon event is an unforgettable experience that not only changes hearts, but also the way people think about ministry and music. And when this happens, lives will never be the same.
